

- System allows user to create an account which can later be used to login
- System allows user to purchase tickets while logged in
- System allows users to check-in prior to their flight with s confirmation number
- System allows employees to modify flight information when logged in
- System allows users to cancel flights they have previously reserved
- System allows employees to add and remove flights from their schedule
- System allows users to enter their credit card numbers to pay for their reserved flights